

The internet is an invaluable resource for locating information about adoption. If you have been involved with the adoption community for very long, then you likely are a member of at least one YAHOO!® group. As a result of a YAHOO!® group I have located my daughter's crib mate, I have chatted with families who have adopted children from the same SWI's as both of my daughters, and I have met some amazing new friends, some of whom I have met in person, and some I know only through cyberspace.

Below is a list of adoption related YAHOO!® groups. If you would like your YAHOO!® group to be added please send me an email at mom@myndee.com.
